

Make Your Coursepack Available

Once you've created a coursepack, it will automatically be available to anyone using the Internet. However, you may want to be sure your title and coursepack description are clear and appropriate. You can also organize your coursepack contents as you'd like them to appear for students. Finally, you can provide your students with access to the coursepack via direct link, or by downloading a PDF (or ePub) of the coursepack and posting it to your LMS site.

1. Edit your coursepack title and description. When logged in, click "Account" under your profile.
  - a. Select the coursepack you want to edit.
  - b. Click "Edit" from the button options.
  - c. Edit your title and description in the popup provided, and click "Save." Your changes will be saved.
2. Order your coursepack as you like.
  - a. Use the "Sort" button to sort automatically.
  - b. Or, drag and drop an item from the coursepack contents list to reorder.
3. Expand and collapse coursepack contents online.
  - a. Select "+ Expand Works" from the buttons to expand all the coursepack contents at once.
  - b. Select the + icon at each work in the list to expand just that item.
4. Provide direct link. Copy the URL to your coursepack from the browser address bar, and paste it into your LMS.
5. Download the coursepack. Download your coursepack as a PDF (or ePub). You can then give that PDF to your students in any effective way. You can often send it to your bookstore to be printed at cost, for students to purchase at the bookstore.
6. See linked data visualizations in your coursepack.
  - a. This is only available while you're online.
  - b. Select "+ Linked Data" to view a geographical map of all tagged places in your coursepack.
  - c. To see the relationships between items in your coursepack, select "Relationships".
